Findings & Recommendations

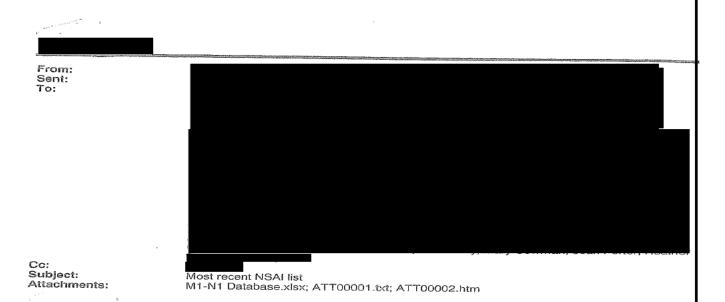

Finding	Implication	Recommendation	Management Action Plan
 Vehicle Conversions Internal Audit examined 7 applications for the conversion of vehicles to N1 class (commercial vehicles) between the periods of March to July 2018. Some of these vehicles were already classed as N1 and were converting from a commercial 2-seat to a commercial 5-seat. See Appendix A 4 conversions did not meet the criteria for conversion to N1 with 2 or more rows of seats as per the NSAI list provided by the Motor Tax Policy Section. See email from Dept to Authorised Officers dated 10th Feb 2017 – Appendix B. All conversation applications were processed by the cashier at the public counter. Both the NSAI approved test centres list & list of vehicles for conversion to N1 with 2 or more rows of seats not to be accepted by motor tax offices were not included with Motor Taxes Procedure Notes. Of the 7 vehicle applications accepted Argent Equipment Ireland Ltd carried out 5 of the of Test 48 certifications, 4 of which should not have been accepted. Argent Equipment Ireland Ltd. is a NSAI Approved Test Centre. 	 Incorrect tax class / vehicle category change. Potential loss of income to the Department. Possible insurance implications as vehicles are insured commercially but are specifically excluded from being classed as commercial under Dept. guidelines. 	 As the conversion application documents need to be compared to the Departments and NSAI's lists/requirements, conversion applications to N1 should be processed in the back office. This will allow sufficient time to ensure the conversion is valid. The staff user manual needs to be updated to include both the NSAI approved test centre's list & list of vehicles that are not to be accepted for conversion to N1 with 2 or more rows of seats. The manual should be reviewed regularly to unsure only current relevant department circulars are included. As 4 of the 7 vehicles presented tested by Argent Equipment Ireland Ltd were found not to meet the criteria for a 5 seater N1, or should be contacted to liaise with the authorised test centre regarding the conversion as per Test 48. (Contacts provided on page 50 circular 1 of 2016). 	conversion applications only dealt with in back office Procedure manual updated Test 48 no longer required,

Motor Tax Transactions – 6th April 2018
• 151 Tax renewals, 2 replacement document applications and 4 change of particulars were processed.	 Potential errors if forms not completed in 	• Given that 4 out of 7 conversions examined were incorrect, I recommend that Motor Tax carry out their own examination of all recent	Internal Motor Tax Audit completed of all 2018 conversions, 3 more vehicles identified
• 8 of the application forms processed did not include the name of Insurance company.	full.	conversions.
 1 application had no insurance policy no. included in the provided section. 		• Motor Tax should consider recalling the incorrect conversions as these vehicles are taxed as commercial when in fact the guidelines state that	To be implemented
• In 4 cases the provided day box of the insurance policy expiry date was not completed.		they are specifically excluded from being commercial vehicles. A balance of duty maybe due in these cases.
• The applicants failed to date the application forms at the provided space on 21 applications.		• Staff should ensure that all forms are competed fully and correct form is used in all cases.	Updated training for all cashiers, batching of all forms now being completed
• On 2 applications the cashier omitted to mark the type of payment received.			to ensure higher compliance
• In one case an application form issued from the Department for the renewal of tax commencing on the 1st of January was used for taxing a vehicle from the 1st of April – a new manual application should have been completed in this case.
